This year's Club Championships were played over 2 days of very different weather. Saturday was hot, Sunday was overcast and rain, but it could have been a lot worse if you listened to the weather forecasters. And based on the number of "no-shows" on Sunday – some did just that.

In the first of what may be many championships, steady play by Joey Irvin, firing rounds of 74 and 75, made him the A Class club champion. Kevin Beerli finished 1 stroke behind. How close was the competition? The final group was within 1 shot of each other when they teed off on the last day.

Stan Loach, who also played very steady, won the B Class Championship. Stan fired rounds of 79 and 81 to win.

Tony Belcourt beat Doug Specht on the first extra hole to win the C Class Championship. They were tied at 175 after two days.

The winners will join Bill Mason (Senior Club Champion) and will represent Mississippi at the OVGA Tournament of Champions being held on Monday September 26 at the Greyhawk Golf Club.

Special thanks to Ron Mathews who assisted with the scorekeeping duties during the weekend – your efforts were truly appreciated.

This was the lowest attended Club Championship event in the past 7 years. In fact, the number of A players outnumbered the total number of B & C players. Unfortunately this trend of low participation has been evident in most of the events this year.
